INTRODUCTION

This economic development plan provides guidance for land use planning, new development, redevelopment and the provision of infrastructure within the Downtown Economic Development Area (EDA). This EDA was originally established in 1985 and encompassed approximately 50 blocks (133 Acres) The 133-acre area is bounded by Third Street on the south, Washington and Indiana Streets on the east, Tenth Street on the north, and Rogers Street on the west. (See Map 1).

The 1990 Downtown Redevelopment Plan expanded the 1985 Downtown Redevelopment Area to include five (5) additional blocks (21 acres) in the area between Second & Third Streets and Walnut & Madison Streets. (See Map 2).

This 2010 amended Economic Development Plan expands the EDA by 48 acres (See Map 3). The purpose of this expansion is to provide adequate growth space for office, research and technology business use in order to maximize opportunities to attract, grow and retain knowledge- and creative-sector employers in the area. Currently, the expanded 2010 EDA has excellent new development and redevelopment opportunities. Unlike other areas within the existing EDA, there are fewer land owners together with large lot sizes that make land assembly less challenging. Further, existing buildings are well suited to support redevelopment opportunities.

The majority of the City's Certified Technology Park (CTP) is included in the 2010 EDA. The City achieved State of Indiana designation of the CTP area in 2005 and set its overarching goals for the creation of new businesses engaged in information technology, instructional technology and life sciences. The strategies identified in the City's CTP Action Plan toward meeting these goals closely mirror goals in the EDA, among them the following: invest in key infrastructure, including parking garages, streetscape improvements and technology infrastructure; maintain partnerships with Indiana University and Ivy Tech Community College to commercialize research and develop a knowledge-sector workforce; and, facilitate the sale or lease of commercial sites to firms in the targeted industries. The CTP Action Plan also calls for the expansion of the downtown tax increment financing district (this EDA) to include the CTP.

In addition to the primary land use goal of creating and retaining employment uses focused in the technology, life sciences and other creative sectors, supplementary activities within the expanded 2010 EDA include fostering small-scale retail/service uses as well as residential uses catering to live-work, young professional, empty nester and senior housing markets. These housing markets will be attracted to reside within the expanded 2010 EDA due to the employment, recreational, cultural and entertainment choices available throughout the downtown.

At the heart of the expanded 2010 EDA is approximately 12 acres of property owned by Indiana University. Through purchase and subsequent land transfer activities, the City's goal is to ensure that future development and redevelopment activities are consistent with the land use goals contained in the expanded EDA. Land transfers must target the following objectives: 1) renovation and long-term reuse of historically surveyed structures, 2) creating and retaining technology-based employment uses, 3) creating new publicly held plaza space and greenspace, 4) upgrading utility, streetscape and street infrastructure, particularly along the 10th Street corridor, 5) ensuring the development of diverse housing options, particularly along the section of the B-Line Trail west of Rogers Street, and 6) facilitating the creation of structured parking in association with employment-related land uses.

Containing 48 ACRES, more or less.

ZONING AND LAND USE

The 1985 and 1990 EDA includes properties within the Residential Multifamily (RM), Commercial Limited (CL), and the Commercial Downtown (CD) zoning districts. Approximately three (3) acres of the EDA are within the RM and CL districts and contain well established professional offices and medium density multifamily housing units. No significant redevelopment activities are expected in the short-term for this small portion of the EDA.

The remaining portion of the EDA is within the CD district. This area is expected to see continued redevelopment activity because the zoning supports a more intense built environment and higher density residential usage. Specifically, the redevelopment of vacant and underutilized properties with mixed uses containing storefront retail, professional offices, and employment activities on the first level as well as upper story residential uses is strongly encouraged.

Because the CD district covers a large geographic area, it is further broken down into six character overlay zoning districts. The purpose of these additional overlays is to ensure that redevelopment and new development activities meet the respective overlay objectives that focus on building scale, architecture, orientation, density, and to some degree, land use.

The expanded portion of the 2010 EDA is located almost entirely within the CD zoning district, with the exception of property west of Fairview Street, which is zoned Commercial General (CG). Further, the Showers Technology Park Overlay District (STPO) contains almost all of the expanded EDA. The goal of this zoning overlay district is to promote mixed use development focused primarily on light industrial/manufacturing and technology-sector office uses combined with small-scale retail services and a live-work, young professional, empty nester and senior housing component.

The following is a brief overview of the land uses within the EDA:

DOWNTOWN BUSINESS/COMMERCIAL

The Downtown Business/Commercial component of the EDA is comprised mainly of mixed uses that focus on retail sales, professional offices, restaurants, financial services, and entertainment/art/cultural centers that serve the Bloomington community and visitors alike. Downtown Business/Commercial uses are supported throughout the EDA.

DOWNTOWN RESIDENTIAL

The Downtown Residential component is encouraged throughout the EDA and Downtown area and generally is expected to occur in upper stories of buildings as part of mixed-use redevelopment activities. It is generally comprised of multifamily units which should promote a diversity of housing types for all income groups and ages with a focus towards workforce, live-work, and retiree housing. The intent of the plan is to increase new and renovated residential units within easy walking distance of the employment, retail, entertainment, financial, cultural, educational and governmental centers of the city.

DOWNTOWN INSTITUTIONAL/RESEARCH

The Downtown Institutional/Research component of the 2010 EDA is comprised mostly of government services, technology and life science-based offices and research laboratories, and educational and professional training facilities (e.g. Indiana University, Ivy Tech Community College, ProCure Training & Development Center). The Downtown Institutional/Research uses are supported mostly within the expanded 2010 EDA.

STATEMENT OF DEVELOPMENT OBJECTIVES

1. Strengthen and intensify existing land uses within the area, with particular focus on ensuring a diverse retail mix, increased upper-story residential uses, fostering employment, and greater usage of vacant and underutilized buildings.
2. Construct new and renovated housing units within the area that supports a diverse mix of housing types.
3. Renovate historic structures in the Central Business District, especially around the Square.
4. Improve public and private infrastructure in the downtown. In particular, invest in designing and implementing improved streetscapes as well as replacing older water, sewer and stormwater infrastructure.
5. Strengthen the ties between the city and the community's higher education institutions and improve the physical linkages between downtown and the Indiana University campus.
6. Provide structured parking facilities in conjunction with area employment uses, particularly within the City's Certified Technology Park/Showers Technology Overlay district.
7. Construct additional hotel and meeting space within the downtown and support an expanded Convention Center complex.
- ~~8. Construct public spaces, including plazas and greenspaces for individual use as well as for special events and programs.~~
9. Develop the City's Certified Technology Park area as a research and industrial park with additional high tech office and research space, while also allowing for a mix of complementary uses, including retail, service and workforce and other housing.

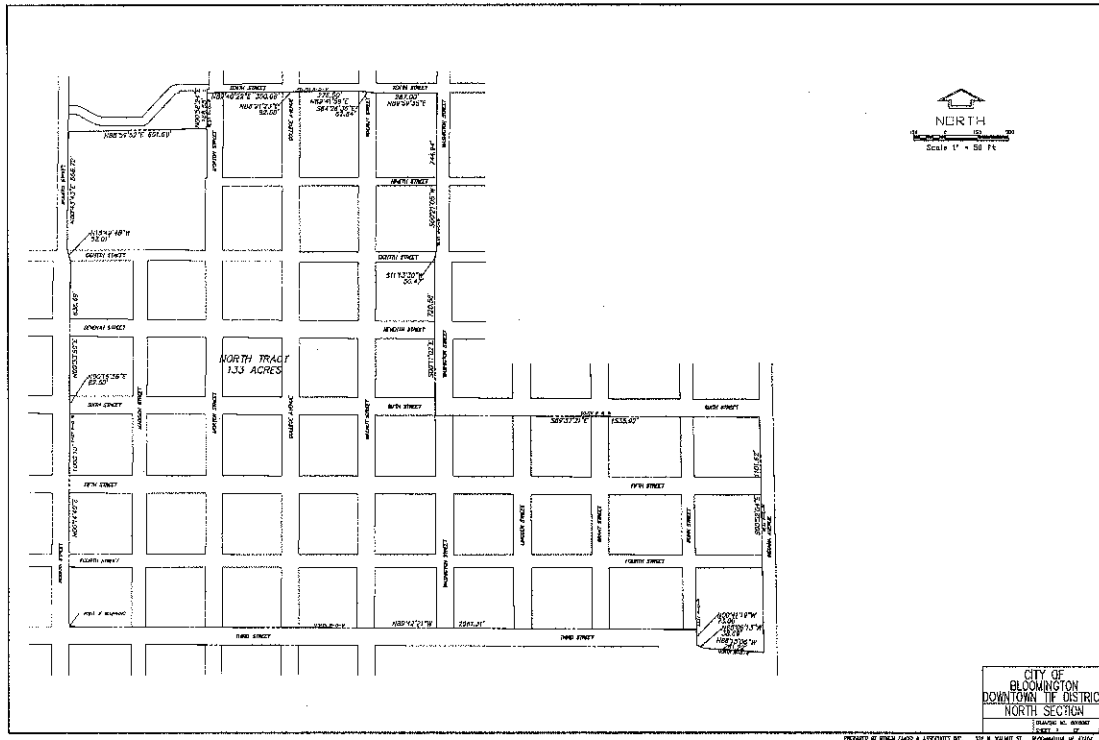

10. Provide adequate growth space for office, research and technology business use in order to maximize opportunities to attract, grow and retain knowledge- and creative-sector employers in the area.

PROVISIONS FOR AMENDING THE PLAN

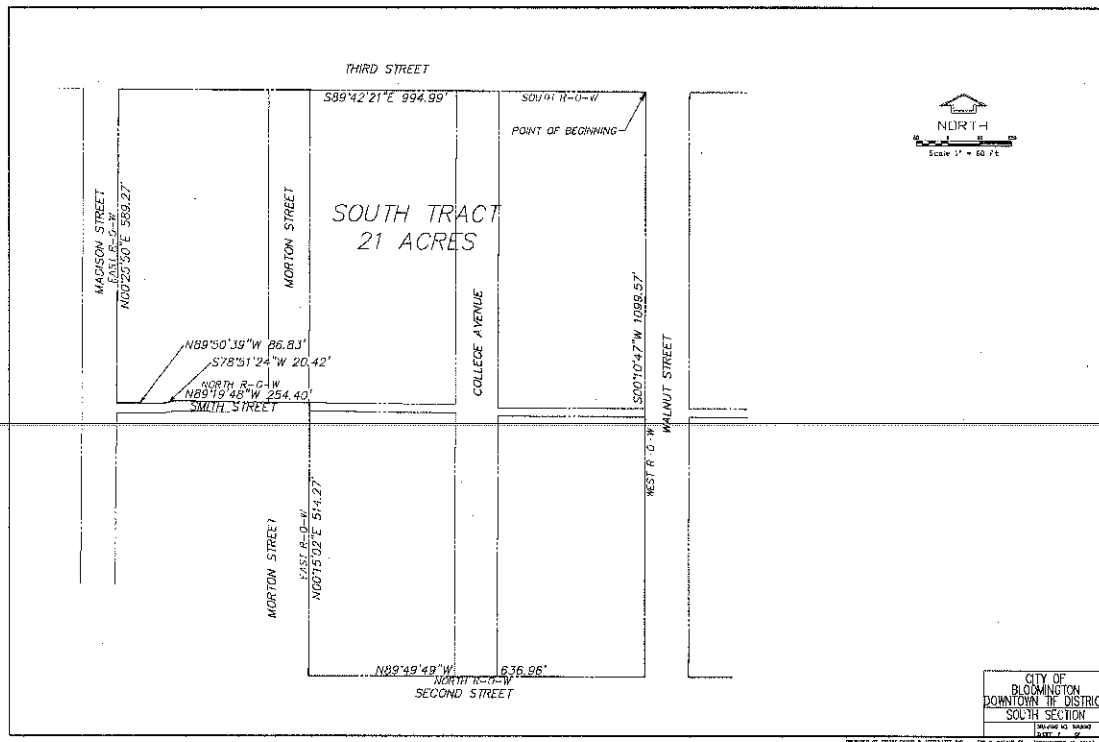

This plan may be amended as outlined under Indiana Code 36-7-14-17.5. Modifications could arise from property acquisition for right-of-way improvements or other public purposes, or the enlargement of the EDA.

Adjustments resulting from experience during project execution are authorized in the administration of this project, provided that the intent of this approved Economic Development Plan is not changed. Any modification which substantially changes the approved Economic Development Plan will be subject to the requirement of applicable State codes for plan amendment.
